ABOUT ME

Having been both a developer and designer on projects, gives me a very unique skill set and point of view. I'm very passionate about what I do, and in the last year have fully realized what that is, it's providing a really amazing and beautiful user experience.

Where others are obsessed with learning the next big code trend, I'm fascinated and intrigued with what makes a user tick. The actions and designs that drive a user to click, search, scan and interact with a product is what makes the wheels turn in my head and drives my passion even more. Having a problem or challenge to solve is the best part of being a UI/UX Designer.
